There are times in the lives of unionized workers when they must stand up and speak loudly to government to protect their rights.

One of those times is THIS SUNDAY, when thousands of union workers from many sectors will gather at the Alberta Legislature to demand that the provincial government end the grossly unfair practise of 'double-breasting'.

We need YOU to join that rally! It'll start THIS Sunday at 1:30 pm in front of the Legislature building.

Double-breasting is allowed under current Alberta labour laws. It means any unionized employer can simply create a parallel company, claim that it is completely separate from the original company, then use that parallel (spin-off) company to do the same work as a non-union firm, or with CLAC.

The Alberta Government is currently conducting a public review of both the Alberta Labour Relations Code and the Employment Standards Act.

And that's why union members must stand up NOW and speak with one voice.

Now is the time to tell the government that we want changes to the Alberta Labour Relations Code that slam the door on the ability that previous governments have given unionized employers to avoid their collective bargaining obligation and deny their workers the benefits and protections that they rightfully deserve.

Please come. Bring your friends and families. Let's show the government how powerful a political force unionized Albertans can be. Let's convince them to reverse the decisions that previous governments have made that hurt us all.
